Sperry Announces Partnership with GreenPath Financial Wellness

Member-owned financial institution enhances financial wellness opportunities and works to boost financial literacy.

Garden City Park, NY, June 6, 2019 – Sperry Associates Federal Credit Union (Sperry) has partnered with GreenPath Financial Wellness, a national financial wellness nonprofit with over 60 years' experience in the field, to offer a suite of services geared towards helping the credit union's membership boost their fiscal knowledge.

"Our partnership with GreenPath demonstrates Sperry's commitment to offering members a diverse array of beneficial resources," Kevin J. Healy, Sperry's Chief Executive Officer, said. "In today's ever-changing fiscal environment, it is more important than ever that everyone improve their financial literacy and understanding."

Since 1961, GreenPath has focused on counseling and educating credit union members on how to manage debt, prepare for large purchases, and make well-informed financial decisions. The benefits from GreenPath available to members include direct access to financial counselors, a range of e-learning courses, and fiscal empowerment.

"We're thrilled to have Sperry come onboard with GreenPath," said Donna McNeill, GreenPath's Chief Operating Officer. "By offering our services, Sperry is allowing their membership to firmly take hold of their financial futures."

The program is expected to be rolled out to Sperry's membership in the coming weeks.

More information about the new partnership can be found on Sperry's website at www.SperryFCU.org or by calling GreenPath at 877-337-3399.
